TERESA J. ROTHAUSEN, PH.D. C.V.

Teresa Rothausen, Ph.D., has been called a visionary leadership educator for executives and experienced adults. Her clients witness that her approach increases their effectiveness and infuses leadership with meaning and fulfillment. She leverages psychological and spiritual wisdom to guide them as they cultivate the capacity and courage needed to effectively lead organizations while integrating environmental and social justice.

Teresa currently serves as Executive Academic Director of the Center for Leadership Formation (CLF) at Seattle University (SU), Professor of Leadership with the Albers School of Business and Economics at SU, and President of Wiser Wilder Leadership, LLC in Minneapolis, which she founded to support experienced and executive leaders using her approach based on her research published in top academic journals, including Journal of Management, Journal of Organizational Behavior, and Journal of Business Ethics. Some of her research won honors, including her 2019 article on meaning and well-being in work, which was a Journal of Business and Psychology Top-12 Contribution from over 800 articles submitted. She is currently writing a book on Wiser Leadership, which guides leaders toward using a deep wisdom to ground their leadership as they lead change that activates this wisdom in the world.

CLF is home to a distinctive graduate certificate in executive leadership and the Leadership Executive MBA, consistently ranked as the #1 EMBA program in the U.S. Northwest, and top 20 nationally, by U.S. News & World Report. During Teresa's leadership, CLF cohorts included the highest percentage of executives of color in program history. In her prior position as Professor and Endowed Chair in Principled Leadership at the University of St. Thomas-Minnesota (UST), she served as Founding Director and Lead Faculty in award-winning programs. She led faculty and staff teams in the Full-time UST MBA, a program oriented toward ethical leadership, and the Executive Education Program for Nurse Leaders. She led other teams and chaired key university-level committees as well, was instrumental in college initiatives resulting in one of the highest proportions of African American business faculty in the nation and increased racial diversity in the UST MBA program. Prior to UST, she was at Texas A&M University and Arthur Andersen & Co. She has served on boards and executive committees, and in volunteer roles, for nonprofit and professional organizations.

Teresa holds a Ph.D. in human resources / industrial relations from the University of Minnesota, an M.A. in theology with a Graduate Certificate in Spiritual Direction from St. Catherine University, a B.A. with honors in economics from St. Olaf College, and a C.P.A. She was certified in diversity, equity, and inclusion by The MultiCultural Institute in Washington D.C. in 2002 and did post-doctoral work on spiritual development in leaders at Harvard Divinity School, where she is an M.Div. candidate.

Through university, independent, and pro bono work, Teresa has developed leaders from a wide variety of organizations including 3M, Allina, Amazon, Ameriprise Financial, Architectural Alliance, Boeing, Center for Strategic Leadership and Organizational Coherence, Children's Defense Fund of MN, Costco, Expeditors of WA, General Mills, Medtronic, Microsoft, Optum, Superintendents Network for Challenged Arkansas Districts, Swedish Medical Center, UnitedHealth Group, Wells Fargo, YMCA, and others. She co-founded The Whiteness Workshop for white leaders, and co-developed and co-facilitated the Anti-Racist Curriculum Series (ARCS) for faculty at Albers.

Teresa is the mother of three-plus amazing humans and butler to furry companions. She is a poet, swimmer, hiker, and vanlife hobbyist who prioritizes time in nature, with family, and in community.

PROFESSIONAL SPECIALTIES THROUGH WISER WILDER LEADERSHIP, LLC

WISER LEADERSHIP COACHING AND DISCERNMENT

Credentialed, compassionate guide who supports and challenges experienced adults and leaders as they expand capacity for effectiveness and impact in teams, organizations, and the world, by integrating meaning, purpose, wisdom, and joy. One-on-one work is offered on a sliding scale based on household income or organizational status (for profit, not-for-profit, public, et cetera).

- Leadership Coaching with a Wisdom Development Orientation
- Spiritual Discernment Direction with an Action ↔ Reflection Orientation

WISDOM COHORTS

Decades of facilitation for learning are brought to bear to form a strong cohort and facilitate deep learning oriented around a leadership or spiritually enriching theme. Results include exceptional bonding in an environment of both challenge and support for growth and development.

One of the most powerful learning and development experiences for adults, including pre-, current, and post-executive leaders, is working and relating with peers within a structured environment. In cohorts of several types, facilitation quality leads to unprecedented levels of trust and the psychological safety needed for meaningful, sustainable learning and growth.

- Cohorts of leaders at similar levels up to executive within one industry or across industries
- Cohorts of leaders focused on a specific developmental challenge or opportunity
- Advocacy caucuses, for example of white people for anti-racism, men for gender equity
- Cross-race, cross-gender, cross-political-party, and cross-generational cohorts
- Issue-learning-focused cohorts interested in going deeper in an area of expertise

WISER LEADERSHIP EDUCATION

Expert, experienced educator in leadership specializing in adults and executive leader levels. Existing courses already developed can be offered, or customized courses developed responsive to client needs. Examples of workshops and courses offered successfully or in development include:

- Wiser Leadership
- Discernment in the Wild/er/ness
- Leadership Vocation and Legacy
- The Whiteness Workshop
- Soulful, Inclusive Leadership
- Reworkment Rather Than Retirement
- Cultivating Holistic Wisdom
- Leadership Paths with the Enneagram
- Leadership through the Lenses of Diverse Wisdom Traditions

WISER LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT CONSULTING

Qualified expert in leadership development and formation of pre-, current, and post- executive level leaders.

- Collaboration with organizational professionals on a project basis or on retainer to develop comprehensive programs.
- Delivery of components of larger programs in coordination with other modules / courses such as executive communications, strategy formation and implementation, innovation and creativity, entrepreneurial mindset, project management, systems thinking, leading teams, et cetera.
